From the Hague Courant, dated Oct. 22.

Hamburgh, October 15.

WE see here the following Treaty between the Czar of Muscovy and the City of Dantzick, concluded the 30th of last Month, and since Ratified on both Sides.

THE Plenipotentiary of his Great Czarish Majesty the illustrious Prince and Lord, the Lord Basilius de Dolhorucky Lieutenant-General of his Great Czarish Majesty's Armies and Lieutenant-Colonel of his Life-Guard, also Knight of the Orders of the Eliphant and the White Eagle, after having in the Name of his said Majesty made certain Demands upon the City of Dantzick, and after for removing the same, the honourable and judicious Lords John Henry Smith, and Salomon Gabriel Schoenmann, Scheepens of the said City, have, in the Name of the Regency thereof, made faithful Remonstrances, as well of the hearty Respect of the City towards his Majesty, as of its Incapacity of complying with the Demands; for divers weighty Considerations, the following Articles are finally agreed on and concluded between the Illustrious the Lord Plenipotentiary of his Great Czarish Majesty on one Side, and the above-named Deputies of the City of Dantzick on the other Side.

1. The City of Dantzick promises to forbear all Correspondence and Traffick with Sweden till the End of the War, and earnestly forbid all their Subjects the same, and to punish all Persons whatsoever of their Burghers or Inhabitants who shall offend therein. And in Case it shall please his Great Czarish Majesty to settle an Agent or Commissary in the City of Dantzick, it shall be free for him so to do, and he shall enjoy not only quiet Habitation, but also all the Privileges and Honours which other Foreign Commissaries and Agents residing in Dantzick have usually enjoy'd. Which Commissary shall also take Care of the Interests of his said Czarish Majesty, and especially take Care, that the Prohibition of Correspondence with Sweden be duly observ'd. And in case he shall discover any thing contrary to this Treaty, he shall inform the Magistrates thereof, who shall give him due Countenance, and forthwith redress the Matters complain'd of.

2. The City of Dantzick shall fit out and furnish, at their own Cost, the three Frigates they have lately built, to act with the good Liking of his Royal Majesty of Poland, against Sweden, under the Colours, and with the Commission of his said Royal Majesty of Poland, and act against the Enemy's Ships. All the said Capers shall be allow'd to come into all the Havens of his Czarish Majesty. And to the End that they may have the like Liberty in all the Ports of the other high Allies, it shall lie upon the King of Poland to sollicite the same, which his Great Czarish Majesty hereby promises to support. In the mean time, the said Capers shall be furnish'd by his said Royal Majesty, with the exact Orders and Regulations given to other Capers, to whom especial Orders shall be given upon severest Penalties, not to fall upon or injure any Ships belonging to the Subjects of Dantzick, or any other of the High Northern Allies or Neutral Nations, when they are able to produce good Passes, Certificates and Documents, or to visit or interrupt them in their Voyage, or upon any Pretence to demand, or take any thing from them, or in any manner whatsoever to hurt or damage them.

3. One half of the Ships Crew of the said Capers shall consist of Subjects of his Czarish Majesty, provided his Royal Majesty of Poland consents to it; but those Men shall take an Oath of Fidelity to the King of Poland, and be acknowledg'd his Subjects.

4. In order the more to obtain his Czarish Majesty's Favour, and the Conditions here stipulated, the City of Dantzick shall pay the Sum of 140000 Specie Dollars, each of the Value of six Tymfen; which Sum to be paid in three several Terms, the first whereof to be 46666 Specie Dollars and two Thirds, each Dollar of the Value aboveſaid, at the end of three Months after the Ratification hereof; the second of the same Sum at six Months after the End of the first Term; and the other, of the same Sum, at six Months after the Expiration of the second Term.

5. In case there shall be Occasion for any of the Frigates, Capers, or Gallies of his Czarish Majesty to come into the Port of Dantzick, they shall be permitted to do. And what is necessary for their Safety shall be granted to them in like Manner as is used to be granted by the Town and Fortresses of the Maritime Potentates of the Alliance. In the mean time, the said Frigates, Capers and Gallies, shall behave themselves as the Ships of other Nations in Amity; they shall make no Manner of Demand but for what is needful to them, and pay ready Money for the same, and shall not presume to make any Visitation or Stoppage of the Ships coming in or going out.

6. As soon as this Treaty is concluded and signed by the Plenipotentiaries on both sides, the Troops of his Czarish Majesty, who are at present in the Territories of the City of Dantzick, shall immediately, and without making any Demands, march away out of the same; and the said Territories shall be at all times hereafter, with Respect to these and all other Troops of the Czar, freed from Quarters, or any other Burthens whatsoever.

7. The City of Dantzick for this and all time to come, shall be fully discharg'd and freed from all Manner of Pretences, which in the Name of his Czarish Majesty may or shall be made for any Cause whatsoever to this Time, and for all Times heretofore.

8. And in Case any Body shall, by reason of this Treaty, in any Manner whatsover, attack or injure the City of Dantzick, his Czarish Majesty shall assist and protect it in the most powerful Manner.

9. All Freedoms, Profits, and Privileges, that are granted at Petersburg to other Nations in strictest Amity with his Czarish Majesty, shall be granted to the Merchants of Dantzick, who come thither for Trade.

10. His Czarish Majesty shall, together with other Potentates, take the most favourable Care for the City of Dantzick, that it shall be included in the next Treaty of Peace for the North; and not only obtain that all their Rights and Privileges be secured to them, but also that the free Exercise of the Evangelical Religion, so as before this present War they have enjoy'd, shall be secur'd and preserv'd to them for ever.

11. These Presents shall be ratified and confirmed, under the Hand and Seal of his Czarish Majesty, and deliver'd at Dantzick as soon as may be, and there exchang'd against the Ratification of the said City, under their Seal.

In witness hereof the Plenipotentiaries above-named on both Parts, have put their Hands and Seals to two exact Copies hereof. Done at Dantzick, Sept. 30. 1717.

From the Brussels Gazette.

Brussels, Oct. 22 The Inauguration of his Imperial and Catholick Majesty as Count of Hainault, was Celebrated at Mons the 18th Instant. The Prince of Rubempré Grand Huntsman of Brabant, who went thither to represent the Emperour, appear'd at Ten in the Morning upon the great Theatre prepar'd for that Purpose beside the Stadt-House, accompany'd by the Nobility of the Province, the Ladies Canonesses, the Abbots of St. Denis, du Val, St. Feuillen, Cambron, St. Ghislain, and de Bon Esperance, the Members of the Council of Hainault, the Magistrates in a Body, &c. An Altar was erected upon this Theatre, whereon was deposited the Body of St Waudru Countess of Hainault, which the Clergy in Procession had brought thither. M. the Prince there swore upon the Gospels, to maintain the Rights and Privileges of the Province, and of the two Estates of the Nobility and Ecclesiasticks, who afterwards took the Oath of Fidelity to the Emperour. After which, he went to the Collegiate Church of St. Waudru, where the Provost at the Head of the Chapter received him, and put him in Possession of the Abbatial Dignity, and then he swore solemnly to maintain the Rights and Immunities of the Chapter. After which, Te Deum was sung, and the Cannon and Musketry of the Garrison fired. And then the Prince and the States went to the Stadt-House, where a magnificent Feast was prepar'd, and in the Evening a Firework was let off, and Wine was let run among the People.

M. the Count de Lannoy Clervaux, Administrator of the City and County of Namur, having been deputed by his Imperial and Catholick Majesty, to receive in his Name the Homage of the Subjects of the said Province; the Members of the three Estates assembled the 18th, and went to his House, from whence they conducted him to the Cathedral Church of St. Aubin. Two Companies of Burghers led the Way, who were follow'd in several Coaches by the Magistrates, the Nobility, the Abbots of Jardinet, Boneffe, Floreff, Grandpré, Wausor, and Geronsaart; after those followed the Count de Groesbeck, accompany'd by M. de Pontillias, Deputies of the Estate of Nobility, and then the Count de Lannoy in a magnificent Coach and six Horses, preceeded by his Lackeys and Pages, and surrounded by his Halberdiers, and two Companies of of Burghers shut up the March. Being come to the Cathedral, the Count was received by two Canons, deputed from the Chapter, who conducted him into the Choir, where the Bishop of Berlo officiated Mass; after which, the Count laying his Hands upon the Holy Gospels and the Relicts, which were placed upon a Table near the High Altar, took the Oath in the Emperour's Name, and received the Oaths of the States, with Acclamations of Long Live the Emperour Count of Namur. After which, Te Deum was sung, and accompanied by the Fire of the Cannon on the Castle and on the Ramparts, and the Musketry of the four Companies of Burghers; and then they all return'd to the House of the Count, where a magnificent Entertainment was made. At seven in the Evening the Count de Hompesch, Commander of the Troops of the States General, let off a Firework, and the Evening concluded with all sorts of Rejoycings.

The Inauguration of the Emperour as Lord of Mechlin was also solemniz'd the same Day, where M. Baillet President of the Grand Council represented the Emperour; who, upon a Theatre erected in the Metropolitan Church of St. Rombant, took the usual Oath in the Emperour's Name, for preserving the Immunities and Privileges, as well of the Ecclesiasticks as of the City; the Burgo-masters and Nobility, in like manner, took the Oath of Fidelity. After which, there was a sumptuous Feast at the Old Palace; and in the Evening there were Bonfires, Illuminations, and Rejoycings throughout the City.
